*“A new pedagogic Culture, based on solidarity and Peace, is emerging in the World. We are all part of it...
The key is having children, youth and adults who are fulfilled, pro-active and happy. NP*

About Noemi Paymal

A French anthropologist, Noemi Paymal is a researcher, author and international speaker. She has hosted over 1440 events in all continents, training some 26,000 teachers and parents. She has authored and co-authored 12 books on Education for the Third Millennium, Peace Culture and anthropology. She has recorded numerous TV and radio programmes.

She and her international team put together the 7 Petal Schools Network, Architecture 3000 for Schools Network, 33 pedagogical handbooks, Games 3000, “Ambassadors of Peace” Schools, a free digital portal and a refugee children programme.

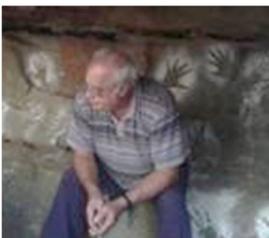

Her goal is the wellbeing of children, Education with Peace Culture and to raise Consciousness around the World.

About Ben Austin

Ben is a record-breaking Olympic Paralympian who received the Order of Australia Medal for his services to sport and advocating on behalf of athletes with a disability. He is a Young Australian of the Year Finalist and spends his time speaking to children nationwide to awaken their pure potential and bring awareness to the Paralympic movement.

As an international speaker Ben hopes to continue empowering people of the world, through sharing his inspiring story to ignite today’s youth into positive action to reach their full potential in life.

About Uncle Paul

“To me being Aboriginal, is not the colour of your skin, but your connection and responsibility to country and all things in Nature”. Paul Gordon.

Paul Gordon, or “Uncle Paul” is a proud indigenous Ngemba elder from northwest NSW. Uncle Paul has spearheaded the Renaissance of Aboriginal culture and lore for many decades, and is a leader of his People.

He is in the midst of completing a ground breaking PHD in Aboriginal Education and hopes to bring the fruits of this labour of love back onto country where Aboriginal people learn best. Also he is currently working at Armidale UNE when he comes into town.

About Education 3000

Educatiooon 3000 is a worldwide invitation and synergy to co-create a comprehensive Education with awareness and care, generating a mutual learning process that integrates solidarity, fun, ecology, humanity, multiculturalism and a true Peace Culture. Educatiooon 3000 comes from Pedagoogia 3000 in Spanish. It is abbreviated as P3000.

We shared 4.000 events around the world, training more than 26.000 teachers, parents and young people. We start our pedagogical research network in 2001, first in south America and then in the 5 continents.

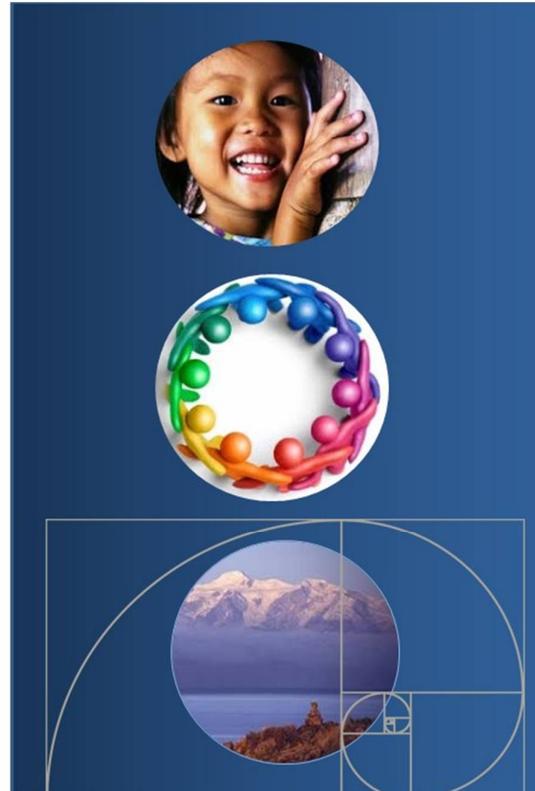

We set up several pilot 7 Petal Schools in South America, and have 15 more under project. We organized many Peace programmes and did with a lot of success different post trauma sessions with refugees' children.

We offer our 7 books and all audio-visual material at no charge in www.educatiooon3000.info
